Andrew Clark: I don't know. Charlie, how'd it go?

Charlie Emala: I think it went pretty well except for the whole, uh-

Andrew Clark: Who would want to do those anymore.

Charlie Emala: That kind of sucked, as usual.

Mike Rahaim: Was it difficult, or...

[unintelligible]

Charlie Emala: One of the wires crapped out.

[audio problems]

Mike Rahaim: White balance...it's an issue.

Mike Rahaim: All right. Upcoming events. First off, the town meeting-

[audio problems]

Andrew Clark: Don't wear jeans.

Eric Klauser: Then we pour some nice kegs...

Andrew Clark: Don't wear like a hoodie or something.

Eric Klauser: And...well-

[audio problems]

Charlie Emala: Who's going to be there at the town meeting?

Andrew Clark: You. You're representing.

Mike Rahaim: [unintelligible]

Eric Klauser: Oh wait, he's got a switcher, that's bad. We can't send him.

Andrew Clark: Nobody else can make it.

Mike Rahaim: We're just doing a one-camera shoot?

Andrew Clark: No, it's-

[audio problems]

Andrew Clark: PDE. Or, from EWP.

Eric Pratt: So nobody here can come except Charlie [Emala]? You can't come?

[audio problems]

Mike Rahaim: All right. Next up, recruiting. Did we get-

Andrew Clark: Flyers up?

Mike Rahaim: We do have the flyers, we got the posters...

Andrew Clark: Well, I've got some bulletin boards up. I've got some bulletin board slides up.

[audio problems]

[audio problems]

Andrew Clark: -after spring break, maybe. I mean five different flyers.

Eric Pratt: Yeah, I don't see, I mean, a whole lot of point putting flyers now, because there are no more business meetings.

Andrew Clark: Right. Put yours over after spring break, okay.

Mike Rahaim: Um, so we talked about-
[audio problems]

Andrew Clark: We need some people. It's a long way off.

Mike Rahaim: Yeah, it's kind of hard to figure out.

Eric Klauser: [unintelligible] -toss me in, I can probably do it from Michigan.
[audio problems]

[unintelligible]

Mike Rahaim: ...we can talk about that later.

Eric Pratt: [unintelligible interrogative]

Andrew Clark: Hm?

Eric Pratt: [audio problems]

Andrew Clark: Why would we need it?
[audio problems]

Mike Rahaim: Shows. The World This Week. Are we putting that completely off to the side now, or are we still looking for another anchor?

Eric Pratt: We're going to try looking for some new anchors. Marc-

Mike Rahaim: Any hits on that?

Eric Pratt: Marc said, well, he can't be at the meeting tonight, he has CS2-

Andrew Clark: Just went up today.

Mike Rahaim: Oh.

Eric Pratt: Marc said that he had a few anchors that were willing to do it if they didn't have to write their own material.

[audio problems]

Mike Filippone entered at 8:43 PM.

Mike Rahaim: [audio problems]

Mike Rahaim: What was that?

[audio problems]

Mike Rahaim: Yay.

[audio problems]

Eric Pratt: -candidate speeches, maybe The World This Week, we're going to- [unintelligible]

Mike Rahaim: Yeah, we'll see.

Eric Pratt: The 26th.

Eric Klauser: I don't see...

Tony Furtado: Is there any way...

[audio problems]

Mike Rahaim: You like the last one?

[audio problems]

Andrew Clark: All but one on Sunday.
