

RPI TV Meeting Minutes

26 January 2010

Officers Present

Reilly Hamilton, Kyle Mackenzie, Alex Niaura, James Petranik, Jon Goldszmidt, Tiffany Milano, Mackenzie Sullivan, Zach Rowe, Andrew Tamoney, Haris Khan, Sean Andrese

Members Present

Mathias Galvin, Andrew Armenia, Ben Vreeland, Patrick Buford, Nick Milano, Holden Tseeng, Seamus Reynolds, Vincent Terranova, Trigs Buster, Kayla Baltunis, Gabe Malveaux, Dan Falkenstrom, Brian Zaik, Mike DiTore, Mike Zwack, Morgan Mauro, John Isabella, Brian Michalski

Charlie acts like a fail for a couple minutes before Riley takes the podium.

Reilly is talking about who the officers are. All the officers introduce who they are and what they do.

RPI TV filmed the hockey game against Dartmouth last week. We won and we managed to do some live streaming and it failed after 10 minutes. Ungrateful people were complaining about our live stream when it failed. Tiffany got sunburned at the HFH.

There are five events this weekend. On Friday we are covering two basketball games. One is a women's game and the other is a men's game. Sean Andrese is producing the event. The first game starts at 6pm we will meet in the closet at 4pm.

Volunteers for the Basketball Games:

Andrew Tamoney, Andrew Armenia, Tiffany Milano, Mathias Galvin, Alex Niaura, Jon Goldszmidt, Reilly Hamilton, Scott Altman, and Gabe Malveaux

We are also doing the date auction. We will meet for the Date Auction in the Closet at 8pm. Mackenzie Sullivan will be producing the event with assistance from Andrew Tamoney.

Volunteers for the Date Auction are:

Zach Rowe, Andrew Tamoney, and Mackenzie Sullivan

On Saturday, we are doing a production women's hockey against the Princeton tigers.

Volunteers for the Women's Hockey Game are:

Andrew Tamoney, Tiffany Milano, Mathias Galvin, Andrew Armenia, Mackenzie Sullivan, Alex Niaura, Trigs Buster, Sean Andrese, Jon Goldszmidt, Ryan Kemper, and Kyle Mackenzie

We are shooting The Sopranos Intro on Sunday. We really want Dan Falkenstrom to produce this event. He is not sure if he can make it. If he cannot make it, then we will do another creative production. It is bound to be a lot of fun.

Volunteers for this creative production are:

Charlie Emala, Zach Rowe , Tiffany Milano, Mathias Galvin, Andrew Armenia, Mackenzie Sullivan, Holden Tseeng, Patrick Buford , Alex Niaura, Ryan Kemper, and Kyle Mackenzie

We have been approached to record a panel discussion with member of the 1985 NCAA Tournament winning hockey team. It's at 12pm meet in the closet and will be a three camera shoot. The production will start at 4pm. We will then record the hockey game after the panel discussion. We will have access to a 16X12 screen to project replays during the two hockey games next weekend (feb 5th and 6th). (Yes, I copied this exactly from the Executive Committee Minutes, I was lazy.)

We're holding office hours now. Look at the google calendar for more information.

We're stalling for a bit so Mike and Kyle can talk about the new RPI TV Website. They talked a bit about the new website, it's best to just visit it at: <http://www.rpity.org> Yes, it's the same link we used for the old RPITV website. Mike DiTore was unclear as to whether this link would work correctly.

VP of Operations has nothing to report.

Business Manager talks about our budget for this year. We asked for a lot more money than usual because we were a little needy, but more importantly we earned it with our hard work. The Union Executive Board was very generous and approved about $17,000 of our requested budget. We can actually use $7000 of it right now. We will be buying a new intercom system (OMG thank bhudda) and a new computer. We're going to buy a wired intercom system. Reilly and Haris wanted the computer to have an AMD processor, but unfortunately Kyle is getting us one with an Intel Processor. In other news, we also got $1400 for media.

Station Manager Zach Rowe invites all to stop by the station during office hours.

Public Relations Manager, Alex Niaura, wants to start a PSA and flyer campaign to get the word out about RPITV. It seems that not many people know that we exist. Sean Andrese wants to poster about how we will be recording two basketball games this weekend.

VP of Programming, Andrew Tamoney, wants to do more original content programming. There will be a meeting for film fest tomorrow at 9:30 pm. The plan is to meet in the SGS and to then disperse somewhere else in the Union.

Original Content Manager, Mackenzie Sullivan, wants to do a parody on a cereal commercial. Email her at sullim7@rpi.edu for more information. Those who volunteered during the meeting should expect an email with the script.

The News Manager is actually doing something this semester and wants to do a production about the new housing policy at RPI. We want to interview students, RAs , and the reslife staff.

Sports Manager reports that we are doing an abundant number of sports this weekend.

That is all.