The Executive Committee votes to allow Dan Falkenstrom to have a key to the RPITV closet. (9-0-0).

We got an email from Norris about our antics during the second intermission. HFH couldn't play the dvd depicting the 1985 team correctly, so they cut back to the rpitv feed. So, Reilly typed out that 'it wasn't rpitv's fault' in the titles system. Norris accepted his excuse. It might not have been professional, but that's ok. It was still funny and we had fun doing it.

The Hard Drive Recorder fell on Saturday. It turns on now. We got the footage off it and we hope there will be no permanent damage.

Mike DiTore and Andrew Tamoney will be going to MIT to do a documentary on RPI's visit.

Iron Chef is on February 27th, 2010. We haven't gotten an email back from them. We hope to get in touch with them soon. It seems like a good opportunity for a good production.

Genericon is a 48 hour uninterrupted event. We want to go there and get a couple interviews done. 7 People have volunteered to go. It will be a time sensitive production.

Elevator Pitch competition is on April 17th, which is a Saturday. Rob Chernow is interested in having us do a production on it.

Kyle wants to buy a couple of Cable Connectors, DVCAM Tapes, and DVC tapes. We're going to let him do it.

Clothe-A-Child is not forgotten and will be worked on as soon as possible.

The bins are now organized thanks to Jon

Reilly is color coding our cables. It doesn't make sense yet, but at least it's done.

Alex has made flyers for the film festival

We sent the form for NRB. We are going to get a contact person with whom we will have a meeting.
