Andrew Tamoney starts off the meeting by volunteering to produce. He says, "Yeah, I'll produce."

We've got Improvcapella coming up. Two events. One is in Mother's and one in Empac. We're skipping that until we know when it's happening.

We've got a West Hall shoot coming up, which is the Divali show. Reilly is going to be producing. It's approved 8-0-0. It's happening next week.

So we've got some things Players are looking for. We're not sure if it's an issue of us not delivering the goods, or them not picking them up. It might be a little of both. We're shooting One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest on Sunday, the 24th. Reilly and Alex will be doing the show and it's going to be a 1 camera shoot.

We're doing the RPA Drag Show on 11/5/10. Start time is at 7ish.

We're getting into the "meat" things, says Reilly.

We're talking more about Football now. Andrew makes a couple of requests for equipment to Reilly. Kyle brings up the potential of a snake. Reilly is unsure if we need a snake.

At this moment we've decided to vote in Brian Michalski. He's here just for fun.

Andrew, Reilly, and Tiffany talked to Kevin Beattie about B2 and stuff. The main stuff was that we wanted to maintain our good relationships and to better communication.

Kevin also hired a NHL consultant to see feasibility of our broadcasts and we got a good bit of commentary. It's probably not going to pan out, but it's pretty cool that the idea even came up.

The next part of the RPI TV meeting was a discussion / debate on the Internet Streaming Issue. The problem is that Athletics signed a contract which stops any RPI entity from live streaming over TCP/IP. It's a very heated issue and things are said with force and passion. If you want an indepth review of what exactly went on, you and I should have a discussion. Especially if you are a cute lady. Perhaps over dinner ☺.
