Sheer Idiocy will be held Friday night, setup starts at 7:00pm. Volunteers for this event include Andrew Tamoney, James Patranik, Zach Rowe, and maybe Alex (if she's not working of course).

Saturday afternoon RPI TV will be filming the Dance Recital. Setup will start at 11:00am. Volunteers for this event include: Reilly Hamilton, Alex Niaura, Kenley Cheung, Andrew Tamoney, James Petranik, and Lydia Campis. Alex will produce this event.

Saturday evening RPI TV plans to film the Men's Ice Hockey game. Volunteers for this event include Robert McDonald, Sean Andrese, Andrew Tamoney, Kenley Cheung, Andrew Armenia, Kyle Mackenzie, Gabriel Malveaux, Daniel Powell, and Reilly Hamilton.

Sunday, 'Noises Off' will be filmed. Volunteers include Reilly Hamilton, Alex Niaura, Lydia Campis, Reginald Franklin III. Kyle Mackenzie plans to just "show up".

News Manager McDonald reports that the previous weekend's creative productions were unable to happen. "They" will try again soon. President Hamilton suggests they look into shorted productions that involve less people.

Sports Manager Andrese reports there was a football game and it was very efficient. Thank you to everyone who stepped up and was able to help out. Sean then proceeded to describe the scenario by which we will play another football game in ECAV again this season.

Events Manager Petranik has nothing to report.

News Manager McDonald has nothing to report.

Reilly, on behalf of Tiffany (her report was not second like usual because she left), would like to remind everyone to keep the small lens hood on the PDX-10s. Also, auto-white balance does not count as white balanced (at least in a multi-camera shoot). Reilly's mind was blown when he discovered the PDX-10s had touch screen capabilities.

Station Manager Rowe has nothing to report. If we are to broadcast something you could find out about it on the website, maybe.

Business Manager Mackenzie has a new website “feature of the week”. When you share a link to an RPI TV Live Stream on Facebook you can now see the live video.

Public Relations Manager Niaura is looking for ways to recruit more members. If you have any friends, you should bring them along to RPI TV and tell them how it makes for great resume experience.

The meeting adjourned at 9:52pm.
