Meeting Began at 21:36.

Charlie Emala began the meeting with upcoming events. Anyone who doesn't know about tomorrow's GM/PU debates is living under a rock. The crew will meet at 10 am outside the studio, the event starts at 3, Eric Klauser will be there to be made fun of. There will be free pizza. Charlie needs someone to shadow Gino Pellicano to learn audio, and there were no volunteers.

Andy Clark entered. Charlie Emala asked him about last year's ROTC meet. The meet this year is Saturday. Andy Clark said he was there all day, an eight hour production, and shot only part of the time, and later edited the production. He says the club only did it because there were Air Force cameramen running the cameras. Charlie Emala asked who would like to do it, no one was enthusiastic. Last year was very long and there was no real finished product. Further, there was no specific request to film the event.

Also on Saturday is a double-header baseball game. According to Joe Goullaud, WRPI needed to get special permission to broadcast the game. If RPI TV needs similar permission (which Andy Clark doubts) we won't be ready to film the game this weekend. Charlie Emala has crossed both events off the list, although the club may still consider baseball.

Andy Clark asked about filming baseball. Some members offered input. Andy Clark has never seen the baseball field. There was a debate concerning whether the baseball field is technically on campus. Andy Clark is concerned about having cameras being hit by balls. Charlie Emala will scout the location, and if it is feasible, we will likely do a game that occurs later in the season if WRPI commentates the game. Brian Zaik tried to figure out more about why we would need permission, but we need Joe Goullaud's information, and he is not present. Charlie Emala and believes that we will not be able to get the production together again. Sean Andrese said that there is a game April 22 that we could likely film. Also that weekend is a benefit concert. Brian Zaik thinks it is a good idea to end the year with two items in a weekend before finals. The club agreed.

Charlie Emala decided that James Canha would be a good person to have follow Gino Pellicano.

Charlie Emala has nothing else, other than the fact that we are getting closer to next season's puck drop. He misses his computer because his countdown to puckdrop is a constant reminder of the approaching season. Brian Zaik has no doubt Charlie Emala thinks about it anyway.

The meeting was adjourned at 21:49.
